Council Tables Ordinance On Master Plan Proposal

An ordinance to authorize work on a new comprehensive development plan for Circleville was tabled last night by City Council.

Meeting in an adjourned session last week, the council spent considerable time discussing pros and cons of a city master plan. A heated exchange of words erupted before the legislators finally decided to hold the approving ordinance for further discussion and study.

The lack of money to finance the city's share of a master plan program was a prime factor in producing the "no action" stand on the proposed ordinance. Enforcement of regulations that a comprehensive plan would bring also fostered some choice comments.

Although the legislative session had been continued for the main purpose of considering the master plan proposal, as requested by the City Planning & Zoning Commission, conversation drifted back and forth to cover a wide range of subjects and past history.

DESPITE tabling of the ordinance and the frequent warm verbal exchanges, the lawmakers did, in a fashion, set the wheels rolling for future action on a city master plan. All who commented on the subject expressed favorable opinions and cited the need for such a program.

Making his third appearance in the city in about a week was Robert Burgin, a representative of the Candeb, Fleissig & Associates community planning consultants. His firm has offered to prepare a comprehensive plan for Circleville at a cost of $28,500. Providing federal aid could be obtained, the city's actual share would be $9,800.

But raising the city's share presented an obstacle the council was not immediately willing to hurdle. Several of them asked the question "where is the money to come from?"

Robert Hedges, chairman of the finance committee, made it known that city coffers currently can realize only about $10,500 in unappropriated monies that must be stretched over the remainder of this year. His report on the general fund balance offered no encouragement.

Hedges, along with solon Frank Barnhill, cited the urgent need for completion of other city projects. They mentioned the Northend Storm Sewer, Sewer District No. 2 and street and park improvements as a few examples.

Councilman Joe Bell suggested possibilities of receiving outside financial aid from sources such as the Area Chamber of Commerce, and perhaps the school board which also would be benefited by a completed master plan.

West To Hit Communism At Roots, Viet Nam Told

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Nguyen Khanh told his people today: "The free world countries are right at our side and if necessary will tackle the problem of communism right at its roots."

His statement coincided with a declaration from Peking that "the situation in Indochina has become increasingly grave in the past few days." Japanese papers were expressing concern over U.S. policy.

Khanh said appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as the new U.S. ambassador to Saigon "is proof of the U.S. administration's determination to continue exterminating communism to preserve freedom."

Khanh spoke at the Gulf of Thailand town of Rach Gia, at the end of a two-day tour of the southern Mekong River Delta.

A Red Chinese broadcast from Peking said the Communist vice premier, Chen Yi, spoke of U.S. preparations for new military adventures.

"The situation in Indochina has become increasingly grave in the past few days," he said.

"In disregard of the serious protests of the Laotian and Chinese people, the United States is continuing its wanton bombing in Laos and stepping up its preparations for new military ventures in southern Viet Nam."

Following Taylor's appointment, editorial writers in Tokyo were taking a close look at Indochina — which Japan ruled in World War II.

The paper Asahi said the United States seemed to be adopting a policy of force in order to improve its position for a presumed political situation after U.S. elections. The Daily Yomiuri said there is the possibility that Chinese "volunteers," in the style of the Korean War, will go to North Viet Nam if the United States bombs its capital, Hanoi.

The Japan Times spoke hopefully of a policy that will not result in expansion of the area of conflict.

Both Communist and non-Communist papers in Hong Kong predicted the United States will step up its military activities in Southeast Asia.

Once Around Roundtown

MRS. ADRIENNE Bosworth, Route 4, was commended editorially by a Columbus newspaper for her Associated Press story on the doctor shortage in many Ohio communities.

The editorial termed Adrienne "The Brenda Starr of the Associated Press Bureau in Columbus." She has been a member of the AP staff for about three years. Columbus news-men now refer to her husband, Orley, as Mr. Starr.

Sgt. York Placed On Critical List

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—World War I hero Sgt. Alvin York has been placed on the critical list at Veterans Hospital here as the result of pneumonia in his right lung.

"He has developed pneumonia and his blood pressure has fallen," said a hospital spokesman. "This may be due to a blood clot in the lung, which he has had before, or a blood stream infection. He is a sick man."

Until pneumonia developed Tuesday, York's doctors were beginning to hint that he might soon return to his home in tiny Pall Mall, Tenn., about 140 miles northeast of here. The 76-year-old medal of honor winner was rushed here June 19 after suffering a recurrence of internal bleeding.

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimates that between 450 and 550 persons will be killed in traffic during the July 4 holiday weekend.

Couple Given Equal Rights To Visit Dog

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Rorschach, an 8-year-old Dalmatian, will spend the summer alternating between a sumptuous home with a splendid picture window and a leading thoroughbred farm.

His master and mistress, Thomas E. and Bessie Hager Masters, are being divorced and each wants sole possession of the animal.

Masters says he has a concrete block doghouse with a picture window for Rorschach at his home at nearby Nicholasville. Mrs. Masters says she would keep the dog at Maine Chance Farm near Lexington.

Circuit Judge Nolan Carter ruled Tuesday they would alternate possession monthly, with visitation privileges, until the divorce is final.

Lunar Eclipse Due Tonight

MOUNT DESERT, Maine (AP)—Moonwatchers expect an excellent view of a reddish glow in the sky tonight.

It will be the first of two total eclipses of the moon this year. Many parts of the world will view the phenomenon, but one of the finest vantage points is expected to be on 1,530-foot Cadillac Mountain on the island of Mount Desert off Maine.

The eclipse begins at 5:48 p.m. EST when the moon enters the earth's penumbra — the almost invisible shadow of the earth. Totality will last from 7:16 p.m. to 8:57 p.m. The moon will leave the penumbra at 11:14 p.m.

Virginia City Elects Negro as Councilman

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Petersburg voters have elected a Negro, John H. Owens, to the City Council for the first time in nearly 100 years.

Owens received 1,724 votes Tuesday for one of the three seats open on the council in a runoff election.

Others elected were Lester I. Bowman, with 2,179, and Vice Mayor Arlie G. Andrews, with 1,933.

A FRIEND'S FUNERAL — Senator Edward Kennedy's wife, Joan, and Stephen Smith leave St. Augustine's Catholic Church in Andover, Mass., after attending funeral services for Edward Moss, 41, father of three, and the senator's close friend. He was killed in the plane crash which injured Kennedy.

Operating Fund Is OK'd For Schools in Virginia

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—One of the last barriers has been cleared away for reopening public schools in Prince Edward County, closed five years ago to avoid desegregation.

The County Board of Supervisors, acting under a federal court order voted 4-2 Tuesday to appropriate school operating funds for this fall.

U.S. Dist. Judge Oren R. Lewis, carrying out a mandate from the U.S. Supreme Court, had given the Board of Supervisors until Thursday to act.

The $189,000 county appropriation, plus state funds, will provide classes for about 1,600 pupils — the number of Negro school-age children in Prince Edward.

Public schools will be operated "without racial discrimination," said the board, but most white children are expected to continue classes in the private, segregated schools they have attended since 1959.

An appropriation of $375,000 was approved for tuition grants, which will go to white children attending private schools, if and when Judge Lewis lifts an injunction against continued use of the schools. The private schools had an enrollment of 1,242 for the term which began last September.

The supervisors raised personal and real property taxes from $1 per $100 to $2.50 and doubled the 30 cents per $100 merchants capital tax. Judge Lewis had ordered the supervisors to levy taxes if necessary to raise school funds.

The County School Board had asked for $339,000. The $189,000 is less than a third of the $739,000 in state and county funds appropriated for public schools the last year the county operated them.

County School Supt. T. J. McIlwaine, said he did not know if the $189,000 voted by the supervisors would be adequate.

One remaining obstacle to reopening the schools is the hiring of teachers. The term begins in less than three months.

The supervisors' action was welcomed by Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr., who said, "It would appear that this represents a bona fide effort by the governing body of Prince Edward County to comply with the order of the federal court."

Negro children went without formal education for four years. Last summer a system of free schools supported by public contributions was organized. It is to end in August.

Ohioan Seeks New Rule on Apportioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, says he may have ready for introduction today a resolution for a constitutional amendment which would partially overturn the Supreme Court's decision on apportionment of state legislatures.

McCulloch, senior Republican member of the House Judiciary Committee, said Tuesday the resolution will be backed by extensive constitutional documentation.

The judiciary committee has jurisdiction over proposals to amend the constitution. To become part of the constitution, an amendment must be passed by two-thirds vote of each house of Congress and then ratified by three-fourths of the states.

McCulloch's proposal stems from the Supreme Court ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a population basis.

If enacted and ratified, the proposal would prevent the Supreme Court from interfering with the apportionment of state legislatures when at least one house is apportioned according to population and the state constitution has been adopted by popular vote or ratified by a referendum.

McCulloch said the Ohio Constitution meets these conditions but he does not know how many other state constitutions do.

Boy Loses Arms, Legs Under Train

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two women watched Tuesday as a teen-age boy leaped from car to car on a slow-moving train — then slipped and plunged to the tracks.

"I shouted to him, real loud, to lie still and not move," said Mrs. Lois Walsh.

The boy apparently heard. He ducked his head.

Then, said Mrs. Walsh "something beneath one of the cars caught him and turned him over and over beneath the wheels."

When ambulance attendants reached the scene, they called for the coroner. The apparently lifeless body of Walter Felder lay between the tracks. The train's wheels had amputated his arms and legs.

Then attendants detected a spark of life. Walter, 13, was hospitalized. Five surgeons battled to keep him alive. In a corridor outside, his mother, Ann McGruder, 42, waited. "My boy is strong," she said. "He's very husky. I'm sure if anyone can pull through this, he can. He's a real boy."

JFK Coin Output Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mint has doubled production of Kennedy half dollars in the past few months. By June 3,000 million of the coins will have been minted. The new goal for 1964 is 150 million.

3 Rights Aides Still Missing

LBJ Work Call Irritates GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's call to Congress to go on a six-day work week until next month's Republican national convention brought angry protests today from GOP House leaders.

"It just isn't fair play," said Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

"This looks like an attempt by the President of the United States to sabotage the Republican convention," commented Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the GOP Platform Committee.

The committee starts its sessions in San Francisco July 6, one week before the convention opens. Many members of Congress are on the committee. Many others want to air their views before it.

Republicans had counted on the House being in recess the entire week starting July 6, with the Senate holding only token sessions.

The recess outlook has dimmed because of Johnson's reported insistence that Congress enact the civil rights bill and start action on his anti-poverty program before the convention.

The President said at a news conference Tuesday he wants Congress to work longer and act on about 30 "desirable" proposals before adjournment.

He prodded the legislators to give his proposals their "full attention six days a week until the Republican convention" and then return to work after the convention.

Leaders had planned to seek final adjournment before the Democratic convention opens in Atlantic City Aug. 24.

Johnson listed these matters as among those he wants Congress to act on:

2 Workmen Killed by Fireworks

NEW YORK (AP)—A fireworks-laden barge exploded in a fury of rockets, flares and bombs on the Hudson River Tuesday night, killing two men. Thousands of spectators cheered. They thought it was part of the show.

Half a million persons lined the riverbanks in Manhattan and New Jersey for the fireworks spectacle, produced since 1957 by Macy's department store.

Two other barges, whose crews apparently were unaware of the fatal accident, continued firing rockets into the sky.

At the finale, 20 minutes later, spectators some distance from the blast, off 96th Street, still were cheering. A hush fell on thousands of others as news of the blast spread.

John Serpico, president of International Fireworks Co. of North Bergen, N.J., said "a low burst that apparently ignited shells on the deck of the barge" caused the explosion.

Killed were Anthony Amato, 60, of Secaucus, N.J., and Anthony De Francisco, 40, of Spar-kill, N.Y.

Huge Centrifuge Set To Test Spaceman

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—Scientists here are building what they call the world's largest centrifuge—a machine so big it can take four men on 30-day simulated space flights.

Two capsules mounted at any point on the 150-foot rotating arm each will carry two men, equipment and provisions sufficient for a month's spin, scientists say.

Researchers hope that studying human reactions to the prolonged rotation will give them clues on how man can live and work in space.

aid, federal aid for hospital construction, extension of the food stamp program, pay increases for government officials and employees.

Extension of the debt limit and emergency excise taxes, the international coffee agreement, aid for highway construction, interest equalization taxes on foreign investments, the anti-poverty program, medical assistance for the elderly, rehabilitation of the Appalachian region, housing, nurse training assistance, immigration law revisions, land conservation, juvenile delinquency, sales of surplus food abroad and water resources research.

Scranton Vote Drive Pressed

West Virginia, Florida Aid Sought

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania turned south today in his search for delegates to support him for the Republican presidential nomination.

The 46-year-old governor, seeking to overtake Sen. Barry Goldwater, aimed his turbo-prop plane at West Virginia, 14 delegates, and Florida, 34 delegates.

Scranton hailed the announcement of support by Henry Cabot Lodge as a "tremendous step forward" in his campaign. Lodge resigned as ambassador to South Viet Nam and said he was returning home to help Scranton.

Scranton's aides said today's trip was aimed mainly at shoring up the uncommitted ranks in the two delegations. The secondary aim was conversion of delegates to the Scranton cause—particularly those now backing Goldwater.

Goldwater leads The Associated Press poll with 694 delegates, more than enough for nomination if he can hold them.

In West Virginia, the Arizona senator has four delegates. Scranton has two and eight are uncommitted. In Florida Goldwater has 2; 11 are uncommitted, and one stands opposed to Goldwater.

Scranton was enthusiastic about the results of his delegate hunt in Delaware and New Jersey.

He claimed "far more than a majority" of the 12-vote Delaware delegation. Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey told newsmen Scranton could expect a "big majority" of the 40-vote New Jersey delegation.

The Delaware delegation pledged itself officially to favorite son Sen. John J. Williams for the first ballot. New Jersey delegates decided to remain uncommitted, at least until after they meet with Goldwater in Trenton Monday.

Scranton met privately with the New Jersey delegates before addressing a $100-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner.

Mother Awaits Court's Penalty

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A probation investigation will determine the penalty for a 26-year-old widowed mother accused of drowning her four-year-old son in a bathtub.

Mrs. Sonje Silverstein, 26, Oxford, pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter Tuesday in Butler County Common Pleas Court. Judge Fred B. Cramer set Aug. 12 as the date for sentencing. She had been charged with second degree murder.

Defense attorneys contended Mrs. Silverstein was under the effects of an anti-depressant drug and not responsible for her actions when she drowned her son Lee on April 8.

Dr. Garrett J. Boone, county coroner, said Lee was suffering from a malignancy similar to that which earlier caused the death of Mrs. Silverstein's husband.

Ex-CIA Chieftain To Probe Mystery

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—Federal and state agents resumed and intensified door-to-door and gully-to-gully search at daybreak here today for three missing civil rights workers.

A posse of lawmen combed the swampy area in this east central Mississippi section.

Allen W. Dulles, former Chief of the Central Intelligence Agency, expects to leave for Mississippi this afternoon on a White House mission to look into the mysterious disappearance of the young trio.

The charred hulk of the station wagon used by the trio was found by FBI agents late Tuesday at the edge of a swamp off a lonely road northeast of this central Mississippi town.

Philadelphia is the seat of justice for Neshoba County, called "Bloody Neshoba" by Mississippians for its history of settling feuds by gunfire.

The FBI clamped a lid on most of its investigation.

A Mississippi highway patrolman told a newsmen: "The FBI has taken over entirely."

Highway patrol units conducted a house-to-house search late into the night. More patrolmen were expected today.

Missing are Andy Goodman, 20, and Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York City, and James Cheney, 22, Negro from nearby Meridian.

They were last seen Sunday night in Philadelphia after Cheney paid a $20 fine for speeding.

The White House announced that President Johnson had ordered Dulles to the state to coordinate the probe.

Dulles will confer with Gov. Paul B. Johnson, other top state officials, and the FBI on the progress of the investigation.

Wallace Talk Irks Jaycees

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Delegates from Connecticut and Massachusetts rebuffed Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace as he delivered the keynote address Tuesday to the national Junior Chamber of Commerce convention.

Expressing "shock and disbelief" that Wallace would keynote the convention, the 75-member Connecticut delegation stayed away from the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

The Massachusetts delegation remained seated as some 7,500 other delegates gave Wallace a standing ovation.

Robert E. Joyce of West Haven, Conn., said the Connecticut delegation did not object to Wallace's addressing the convention as such. But he said they were opposed to his making the keynote address.

"The function of the keynote speaker is to set the tone of the convention," the statement said.

Sawed-off Shotgun Used by Young Thug

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A young man used a sawed-off shotgun to rob the West Toledo Branch of the Lucas County State Bank of approximately $3,000. The man, between 20 and 22 years old, pulled the shotgun from a paper bag Tuesday and demanded money from teller Mrs. Mary Mithen.

Manager Thomas Eley, the only other person in the bank, said the robber was in the bank only about three minutes and fled on foot after warning against sounding an alarm.

Deaths and Funerals

MR. HARLEY CORDER
Mr. Harley Corder, 80, Route 4, London, died at his home yesterday.

He was born Aug. 10, 1884, in Madison County, the son of George and Louisa Corder.

Surviving are his widow, Edna; two sons, George W. Corder, Orient, and Leslie O. Corder, London; a niece, Mrs. Naomi Kingery, Columbus; and a grandson.

Services will be 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Snyder Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling. Burial will be in the Denison Chapel Cemetery.

MRS. JANE BRIGGS MAY

Mrs. Jane Briggs May, 78, New Holland, died 1:30 a. m. today in the Elizabeth Ann Nursing Home, Washington, C. H., following a lengthy illness.

She was born June 21, 1886, in Fayette County, the daughter of William and Elizabeth James Briggs.

Mrs. May lived in New Holland her entire life and was manager of the Ohio State Telephone Company office there. She was a member of New Holland Methodist Church, American Legion Auxiliary, 50-year and life member of Puritan Chapter Order of Eastern Star and secretary of the OES.

Surviving are her husband, Percy May; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Lee Stinson and Mrs. Floyd James, both of New Holland and Mrs. Willard Peterson, Frankfort; two brothers, Dudley and Strawder, both of New Holland.

Services will be 3 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland, with the Rev. Orlo Freshly officiating. Burial will be in New Holland Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 2 p. m. tomorrow.

Two Injured In Accident On Route 23

Two persons were injured in a car-truck collision in the southbound lane of Route 23 at 6 p. m. yesterday just north of South Bloomfield.

Taken to Lockbourne Air Force Base Hospital were Carol Jean Nace, 17, Lockbourne, and Autry D. Dorsey who is stationed at the base.

Miss Nace suffered lacerations of the face and leg. Dorsey sustained a head and possibly internal injuries, according to Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff William Pontious.

The accident occurred during a severe storm. Miss Nace told Deputy Pontious she lost control of the auto she was driving, crossed the grass median and struck a truck operated by William H. Baughman of Columbus.

BAUGHMAN stated he saw the car coming and unsuccessfully tried to avoid a collision.

Deputy Pontious said Baughman told him the auto narrowly missed a third southbound car which veered to the median to avoid a crash. The mishap is still under investigation.

The truck and auto blocked the southbound lane of Route 23. Officials of the State Highway Patrol aided the sheriff's department by directing traffic during the investigation.

Pontious noted Miss Nace had obtained a temporary permit to drive yesterday.

Former Resident Injured in Texas

Mrs. Eileen Weaver, daughter of W. G. Koch, Route 2, is confined to a hospital in Ft. Worth, Tex., following an auto collision in that area several days ago.

Mrs. Weaver was seriously hurt in the head-on crash. Her husband also suffered severe injuries and is confined at the same hospital.

Two brothers of Mrs. Weaver, Lloyd Koch of S. Pickaway St., and Richard Koch, Route 2, flew to Ft. Worth to be with the injured couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are in All-Saints Hospital at Ft. Worth, Area Code 817.

Education Experiment

"Mass education" is a contradiction in trends. Education is a personal, individual experience.

These words were spoken by Stanford University professor Robert N. Bush, one of the founders of a revolutionary high school schedule which underwent intensive experimentation this last year in four western high schools.

Usually referred to as the flexible schedule, the system for breaking down a school day developed by Professors Bush and Dwight Allen attempts to gauge the optimum effective time which can be spent on a subject. A typical day might include one-half hour for a foreign language, one hour for English, two hours for science lab and one hour and a half for physical education.

The flexible system is in direct contrast to the universally used Carnegie unit system, which divides the school day into periods of equal time instead of on the time requirements of each course.

Under the flexible concept as tried out by 6,000 students in two high schools in California and one each in Nevada and Oregon, the school day runs from 8 to 5 — a little longer than the usual schedule — but included in this day is time for classes, conferences with teachers, individual study, laboratory work, library research and extra-curricular activities.

Compensating for the longer day is a rule on no homework. The Stanford professors directing the flexible schedule are firmly convinced homework adds little to the student's knowledge, but may harm his academic progress by turning over to parents who have been away from school for 20 years, and in many cases are unfamiliar with modern teaching techniques, part of the teacher's responsibility.

When the student leaves school at 5 p.m., "there would be no work hanging over his head, and no automatic handicaps for those students who are unable to do their homework for various reasons," is the way Professor Allen explains it.

During the initial shakedown experiment, parents, students and teachers found much to admire in the flexible schedule. It will not be surprising to hear more about this tailored-to-the-individual concept of teaching in the future.

Beyond the Ivy

For years the Ivy League colleges have been oversubscribed — by as much as seven applicants for every available place in the freshman class. But despite the rejection which qualified students so frequently receive from the colleges of their choice, there is room for them elsewhere if they look beyond the ivy.

That is the reassuring word from the Student Admissions Center in New York which reports there are 60,000 places still open in next fall's freshman classes at accredited two-year and four-year colleges throughout the country.

College admissions directors and high school graduate counselors deplore the tendency to apply only to the so-called "name" colleges and to ignore those of lesser renown. The fact that a college is not smothered in tradition does not necessarily mean that it cannot provide a good education for those who really want to work for one.

Remarks To Irk a Father

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks that fathers get tired of hearing:

"Don't take off your shoes. Don't you remember — we're going out tonight."

"Well, the cat finally had her kittens today. What are you going to do about them?"

"That's your father coming in now, young man. Just wait until I tell him what you've been up to all day."

"You can spank me if you want to, Dad. But if you do—don't expect any present from me next Father's Day."

"No, I'm not going to cut the roast. You slice it. After all, that's man's work."

"I don't understand why you don't want to talk to me about your office. Other husbands I know love to discuss their jobs with their wives. They even ask for their advice."

"What's this blonde hair doing on your coat? We are getting real chummy with our new secretary, aren't we?"

"What do you mean you need lunch money? What did you do with the $3 I gave you yesterday?"

"No, I'm not going to another PTA meeting alone. It's your duty to go just as much as it is mine."

"Daddy, it's not fair for you to hog the television set. Who wants to listen to another old political speech? We want to watch that new program, 'Rat-finks in Space.' It's real cool."

"I spoke to the orthodontist today about Danny's teeth. He says that to straighten them it'll take about two years and $750. Do you think we ought to go ahead now — or wait until the doctor takes Danny's tonsils out?"

"I thought you said your old

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market chartists are eyeing every price flurry for signs of the traditional summer rally.

Steel production is sliding fast toward the still more traditional July doldrums.

Many factories are preparing for the newer but growing tradition of a vacation shutdown of one, two or three weeks.

The auto industry is preparing for the summer model changeover.

Hot weather sport and recreational items are selling fast.

Tourists jam New York streets and scramble for hotel rooms. Summer camps shore themselves up for the annual rush of school-free youngsters. Highways to beaches and mountains are even more jammed than ever.

Summer is coming in just like always — almost. There are some differences this time.

Stock prices already are around record highs — if you measure them by the popular averages. But many shares are far below their highs. It's the blue chip type, favored by the popular index and by many institutional buyers, that has attracted most buying interest this year.

Steel's output slide — already some 6.5 per cent from its year's high of late May—seems sure to go on into July. But this summer the steelmen think the dip, however steep it seems

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN COMEDIAN Henny Youngman completed his book, "How Do You Like Me So Far?" he rashly asked Milton Berle to provide an introduction. This is how Milton Berle complied: "Youngman is one of the great comedians of our generation. This is not my opinion. It is Henny's. I've known Henny, man and joke file, for 30 years. Unlike myself, he did not steal jokes from top comedians. He stole from unknowns—a word which later became synonymous with his career. I kid Henny a lot, but actually, he is one of the fastest comedians around. He has to be, with HIS act!"

Game to the core, Henny Youngman didn't delete a single word.

"I think I can catch the 6:22 train," explained a hiker, "if you'll allow me to cut across your field."

"Go ahead," nodded the farmer cheerfully. "but if my bull spots that red sweater of yours, you'll make the 5:40!"

Overheard in the powder room at Cincinnati's Terrace Hilton Hotel: "I never say anything about a married lady unless it's good—and, Sister, this is REALLY good!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am known to be allergic. Skin tests have shown that I am sensitive to 34 foods. Each time I am tested, I am found to be allergic to something else. How often should one have skin tests for allergy? Also, is the single injection against allergy successful against so many food allergies?

F.O.W., Indiana

Dear Mr. W.: It hardly seems necessary for so many repeated, long and tedious series of skin tests for allergy. Unfortunately, patients may react differently to the same skin tests at different periods of the year.

To complicate the problems of interpreting skin tests, some patients can even be sensitive to combinations of foods. For example, an individual may not be sensitive to ham or to cheese, but may react to ham and cheese combined.

The need for any further testing depends entirely on the judgment of the allergist as he evaluates your particular problems.

The single injection to desensitize completely an allergic patient is not universally accepted. Its use in your case should also depend on the discriminating decision of your physician.

My daughter is 19 years old and has been suffering from multiple sclerosis since she was 15. She has been treated by a specialist with ACTH and many other pills. The drug does not seem to help her too much.

Are there any new drugs, special clinics or doctors anywhere in the world to whom we could go?

Mrs. M.C., West Virginia

Dear Mrs. C.: The despair of having a young child who suffers from multiple sclerosis is sometimes overwhelming. It is understandable, too, that the anxiety of the parent leads them to seek "new and far removed" medical opinions.

Multiple sclerosis, or M. S., is an individual disease with individual peculiarities. It is discouraging when the few available drugs do not seem to be of help.

Your daughter's physician is thoroughly aware of all new drugs and researches in progress. If he felt that anyone anywhere might make an additional contribution, he would recommend it.

It is the hope of every physician that the scientific progress being made in this and other neurological (nerve) disorders will soon bring greater benefit to these courageous patients.

I have been taking a tranquilizer for a year and a half. Is it dangerous to take it for such an extended period?

Mrs. M.R., California

Dear Mrs. R.: Tranquilizers, like many other medicines, are meant to serve a purpose for a definite period of emotional or physical illness. Unlimited use of drugs without the specific advice of the physician is unwise.

Assault on Security Agencies

By John Chamberlain

It could be a series of coincidences. On the other hand, it could be a contagion caused by the temper of the times. But whatever it is, a broad movement is in the works to discredit the security agencies of government in the U. S.

The contagion ripples from place to place. The FBI's head J. Edgar Hoover, is subjected to insinuations in magazines that he is too old to do a good job. Mr. Hoover will be 70 years old next January, but to anyone who has talked with him and watched him in action the idea that he is ripe for retirement is preposterous. President Johnson recognized this when he chose the fortieth anniversary of Hoover's appointment by Attorney General Harlan Fiske Stone to waive retirement and continue Hoover in office. Nevertheless in spite of presidential certification that he is sound of mind, and limb, the sniping against Mr. Hoover will continue. The Nation magazine's Fred J. Cook, who has sniped before, will snipe again in a book scheduled for publication by Macmillan, "The FBI Nobody Knows."

In New York City, it is the police department that is under fire. Well-meaning citizens belonging to such eminent organizations as the City Club of New York, the Liberal Party, the Civil Liberties Union, the NAACP, and the Socialist Party, have called for the creation of a civilian board to review charges of police brutality. This has aroused the wrath of Police Commissioner Michael Murphy, who has himself fired some eighty policemen on complaints during the past three years. Commissioner Murphy resents the imputation that he can't take care of disciplinary action within the department himself.

There is no evidence that Communists or Fellow Travelers are behind the agitation to put a civilian board of review over the Commissioner's own review facilities, although John Casse, the president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, has alleged "Communist-front" manipulation. Mr. Casse might have been on less disputable ground if he had advanced the theory of contagion presumably abetted by Communist-fronters. The spreading of verbal impeachments is subtle, an osmosis-like process, and no conspiracies are necessary to cause words to travel.

The attacks on the FBI and the New York metropolitan police are recurrences of what has happened before. But the contagion is now spreading in a new

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

"Ohio's Scenic Wonderland" is one way that the Hocking Valley has been described.

For generations this area has been this State's top scenic attraction and within a short driving distance from the city of Logan one finds Ohio's most popular State Parks such as Rock House, shown in the above picture.

Among the Hocking State Parks are: Ash Cave, Cantwell Cliffs, Cedar Falls, Conkles Hollow, Old Man's Cave and Rock House. All of these State Parks have hiking trails, picnic facilities, unusual flora and spectacular scenery such as few would expect to find in Ohio. Geologically the Hocking

Parks section is of outstanding interest. Here, through ages of time, the streams eroded the countryside to leave in bold, towering cliffs the massive rock stratum known as the Blackhand Conglomerate. This rock is of marine origin, having been laid down along the shores of an inland sea of salt water.

Visitors to the parks particularly enjoy the trails which dodge along the gorges and snake their ways beneath the overhanging ledges. These trails were trod by the moccasined feet of the Indians who roamed this land. And today happy voices of picnicking families echo from the cliffs of the Hocking Parks.

Reds Pour Cash Into Zanzibar

ZANZIBAR (AP) — The Soviet Union, Communist China and East Germany are pumping men, money and machines into Zanzibar.

President Julius Nyerere of the new Republic of Tanganyika and Zanzibar is trying to assert his authority in the island 25 miles off the East African mainland.

Zanzibar's own president, Abeid Karume, 59, a Moslem, probably has no deep love of communism. But the island leader, a seaman for 22 years, seems unversed in the ways of Communist infiltration.

Karume is the idol of the Zanzibar Africans and the island's most powerful single personality.

Asked this month about Communists in positions of authority in Zanzibar, he replied: "What are one or two men? I have the power and I have my own eyes and ears."

Karume cites generous Communist aid as an indication of the bloc's friendship and says anyone who helps Zanzibar is welcome.

Some 150 technicians and experts from the Communist bloc are believed to be working in Zanzibar.

British civil servants have been replaced. East Germans have taken over the Finance Ministry and are helping run the radio station, Information Ministry, schools and medical services. They are doing preliminary work on projects to rehouse thousands of Africans huddled in squalid shanties outside Zanzibar town.

The Red Chinese are firmly ensconced in the agriculture department and are planning rice growing and other farm schemes to reduce the island's dependence on cloves.

China has granted Zanzibar an interest-free loan of $14 million, much of which will be in the form of equipment and services.

Soviet technicians have taken over running of the harbor and providing officers for Zanzibar's two coastal passenger ships. Soviet instructors are training about 400 recruits in the people's liberation army in the use of their new Soviet equipment.

Some of this was displayed at the big May Day parade, "but you didn't see all of it," says Maj. Ali Mahfoud, the army's Havana-indoctrinated second in command.

The army largely is officered by Zanzibaris of Arab origin and small groups have been sent behind the Iron Curtain for further training. Other Zanzibari troops reportedly are being sent to Indonesia.

As a result of Nyerere's influence, Zanzibari troops have discarded their Cuban-style caps and uniforms and now wear the standard green berets and uniforms of the Tanganyika forces.

Communist literature is everywhere. The Soviet Embassy hands it out to school children. The works of Mao Tse-tung crowd bookshops.

The United States embassy has also been permitted to reopen its reading room since Zanzibar and Tanganyika agreed to unite.

Western diplomats are hopeful Karume's African nationalism may come out on top and that Western presence may slowly be re-established.

Pocketbook Policies Get Varied Praise

NEW YORK (AP)—The way most Americans are handling their pocketbooks these days is pleasing both the merchants and the economic score keepers. That doesn't always happen.

Revised government figures show that consumers are spending more—which gratifies the merchants and the dealers—but not too much more—which reassures the statisticians and the planners.

This is a lot different from what many were predicting a while back.

At first some economic experts worried out loud lest Americans go on a buying binge when federal income tax rates were cut. February retail sales did make an unusually good showing, just ahead of final congressional action.

Early reports showed March retail sales down a bit and April's even slower. This worried those who feared the consumer wasn't going to come through nobly and help send the economy to new heights with his spending.

Now the Department of Commerce has revised its figures. It finds that April retail sales really went up instead of down. May figures climbed still higher to a record $21.7 billion. Latest preliminary reports show that in the last four weeks sales of both durable and nondurable goods rose 6 per cent above the like 1963 period.

The increase relieved the minds of the merchants, at least the lucky ones who shared in the gains they had been counting on. It also comforted the economic planners who want the tax cut to give the economy a nice boost.

Just as pleased are those who find the increased consumer spending well below the splurge level. No boom has developed, nor is one foreshadowed as yet.

Bankers also are keeping an eye on the trends in consumer debt. At Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, New York, it's noted that the total of such debt apparently increased less during the April and May advance in retail buying than it did in the first three months of the year. The bank thinks "this augurs well for continued retail strength as the year wears on," because it puts consumers in a good position to spend after

Newest National Hero Dwells Atop Mountain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You have probably never met one.

They're nocturnal, mostly, and dwell on mountain tops in silvery domes that open only at night.

But they do come down into the cities occasionally, to greet their wives, kiss their kids and pick up fresh supplies.

You could, conceivably, bump into one.

If you do and his clothes look a little rumpled, it's probably because they've been on him all night, neglected while he gazed at sights in time and space that only his kind can see.

If you talk to him and his words have little meaning to you it's because he thinks in a polyglot jargon of technical terms invented to convey ideas beyond the ken of ordinary mortals.

If he seems like he's from another world — it's because that is what he deals with most of the time: Other worlds.

But treasure the meeting — you've just met a new kind of national hero.

He's an astronomer.

The blazing dawn of the space age has thrown a sudden light of public recognition on this savant of the night.

Once he wore black robes and peaked cap, and ordinary folk thought he could tell the future from the stars.

When it became a national goal to rocket humans into the hostile environment of the moon and planets, only the astronomer could plot the trajectories and guess what the explorers would encounter on their arrival.

Before the space age opened with the launching of man-made satellites in 1957, the biggest single sum of money astronomers had ever been given to spend was $6 million in private funds — the cost of the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in Southern California.

Since 1957, some $50 million in government money has been granted by the National Science making monthly installment payments.

This ability to spend still worries some, despite the consumer's performance so far.

The economist of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company, New York, agrees that "the inflationary and anti-inflationary forces in the United States are well balanced at present." But he sees inflation as seemingly gaining ground.

Foundation to Kitt Peak National Observatory at Tucson, Ariz., and the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W.Va.

Even greater expenditures are planned for a new astronomical center being developed by five European nations and this country on the peaks of northern Chile.

A few years ago discovery that the atmosphere of Mars was even thinner than supposed would have rated attention only in scientific journals. Today it wins headlines in newspapers all over the world — because it means more millions than planned must be spent learning how to soft-land instruments and men safely on that most earth-like of planets.

When the huge telescope on Palomar Mountain 100 miles south of Los Angeles was opened to public view in 1948, nonprofessional visitors were rare.

Last year more than 15,000 had a glimpse through the giant glass eye of light from objects trillions of miles away.

In 1957, the nation's universities counted 168 graduates in astronomy, by last year the number had risen to 524 and hundreds more were rejected for lack of facilities.

The star-gazer's formal training lasts as long as a physician's. Twenty years or more of study pass before he wins his doctorate.

The astronomer today must be a master of mathematics and physics.

The bastinado, or beating, method of reducing taxes was once practiced in the Near East. Potential taxpayers suspected of concealing assets were beaten until they promised to pay up — the sum required growing less with the amount of punishment suffered.

Rare Tree Fast Grower

NORMAN PARK, Ga. (AP)—A rare tree known as the Dawn Redwood, which once was believed to be extinct, is being planted on the campus of Norman College.

A few of the Dawn Redwood trees were found in China in 1945 by a Harvard expedition and some of the seeds were brought to the United States.

The tree grows rapidly. James S. Spooner, professor of biology, said one at Oak Ridge, Tenn., has grown as much as 10 feet in a year.

How to Treat the Blister Problem...

A remarkable new development of Du Pont Research now gives you greater protection against moisture blistering than traditional linseed oil paints.

SIMPLY DO THIS: 1—If the old paint has blistered, remove old paint down to bare wood. 2—Prime bare wood with Du Pont 49 Blister Resistant Primer. 3—Cover with one or more coats of Du Pont "Lucite" House Paint. Dries in one hour. Clean up hands and brushes with water.

Result—a rich, lovely, low-luster finish of significantly longer life than ordinary linseed oil paints!

Make Kitchen
Attractive,
More Efficient

By ELEANOR ROSS

The next time you get out the kitchen cleaning equipment, it might be a good idea to take time out to give your kitchen a thorough critical appraisal.

If you've gotten into a "rut", and have let things go, now is the time for a change. Making your kitchen more efficient and attractive can change your outlook about it.

Start with your storage space. Strip shelves, empty drawers and dust them thoroughly. Then wash shelves with a cellulose sponge and your favorite brand of pine oil cleaner and warm water. This treatment will clean, disinfect and deodorize all at once.

Dry shelves with paper towels. Line with washable shelf paper to harmonize with your color scheme and secure with colored plastic tape for strong reinforcement and a bright color contrast.

The next stage is a big one. Treat your shelves as if they were a supermarket aisle. This means coding supplies to make a place for everything. Color-code by taping colored plastic tape at the front of each shelf.

For example, a strip of red tape means soups on that shelf; blue tape signals baby food.

Rearrange foods so that frequently-used items are within easy reach. Unexpected — company supplies can be stored in less accessible spaces if you're short of room.

Also, if you have adjustable shelves, regulate them so that tall bottles and cartons are on one shelf, small jars and cans on another. This saves energy spent on reaching for items as well as valuable storage space.

Efficient arrangement of food supplies makes it easier to write the family shopping list, organize storage after shopping, and, if you train the family well, keeps the where-is-it questions at a minimum.

Now for a good look at the overall appearance of the kitchen. If you want to save pennies, you can inexpensively repair and rejuvenate, and at the same time add bright color accents with applications of colored plastic tape.

Stretchy and permanent, this tape will adhere to any surface and is available in seven attractive colors.

Cupboard doors, for example, can be spruced up this way. First wipe thoroughly with a pine oil cleaner to remove greasy film from both wood and metal surfaces in one operation. Dry with a soft cloth to avoid streaking.

Then apply strips of colored plastic tape on the doors in panel effect or other design for a bright, decorative, inexpensive touch.

Canisters, too, can take on a new look with similar strips of plastic tape. Incidentally, a strip placed around the bottom of metal canisters will prevent those pesky rust rings.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren
Too Old To Change!

DEAR ABBY: We live on a farm and my sister, who is in her 40's, does the farm work. She wears jeans and a blouse and goes out in the field with the tractor to work. When it gets hot, she sheds her blouse and works in her bra. She is of a slight build, and has little for anyone to see, but all the same, when my parents, and brothers and sisters-in-law meet her out-of-doors dressed like that they blow their stacks. She says it's no different than being on the beach in a swim suit. Lots of strangers come by our place, but she says it's our property and if they don't like what they see they don't have to look. Who is right? And how do you handle a situation like this?

SLIPPERY ROCK

DEAR SLIPPERY: A "bra" is an undergarment and should not be worn as an outer garment. There are halters for that purpose. In my opinion, your sister should wear halters. However, a 40-year-old woman who drives a tractor is not interested in a lecture from me (OK from you) on propriety and fashion. Be realistic and give up.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the 12-year-old girl who resented being an UNPAID BABYSITTER for her parents. I am 16 and have two younger sisters and a baby brother. My father works from seven A. M. until six P. M., six days a week, and my mother is

Couple Plans To Observe
Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Radcliffe, 749 S. Richardson Ave., Columbus, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with open house from 2-6 p. m. at their residence.

They are the parents of two children, Mrs. Elaine Bowman, 224 Cedar Heights Road, and Clarence Radcliffe, 308 Northridge Road.

The couple formerly lived in Circleville and Mr. Radcliffe taught school here.

Wooster Girl
Is Elected
'Governor'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Federalist Party has made nearly a clean sweep of the top executive offices of the Buckeye Girls State. Of the six top offices up for election, only one Nationalist candidate claimed victory.

A 16-year-old Wooster Girl running on the Federalist slate captured the top office of governor in the elections Tuesday at the school in self-government sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Linda Crocker, a student at Triway High School in Wooster, defeated the leader of the Nationalist Ticket, Gretchen Gundrum of Cincinnati, in the gubernatorial race.

She will head the executive branch of the girls state government, which is organized along the lines of the regular state government, for the duration of the citizenship project at Capital University.

Results of other major elections yesterday included:

—Federalist Gail Thomas of Poland defeated Nationalist Susan Stefanowski of Mariemont for lieutenant governor;

—Federalist Barbara Pullins of Marysville defeated Nationalist Janet Sherwood of Geneva for attorney general;

—Nationalist Carol Meltz of Canfield defeated Federalist Vivian Martin of North Canton for state auditor;

—Federalist Linda Seeley of Bay Village defeated Nationalist Janet Baki of Mansfield for secretary of state; —And Federalist Carolyn Wiley of Akron defeated Jane Mowry of Sandusky for state treasurer.

Cleaning Tips
For Pictures

Well, now, we've selected our pictures, had them appropriately and harmoniously framed and hung. The rooms in which they are placed take on added richness and color.

But to keep all this beauty at its zenith, framed pictures should be cleaned regularly, along with other furnishings in the home. Hung securely, they should be kept clean and dust-free.

If a picture has glass, it should be regularly cleaned with a damp cloth wrung as dry as possible. Even the most minute amount of moisture on the glass can seep along the edges and ruin the mat and, what is worse, the picture.

Avoid soap, as it leaves a slight film on the glass and attracts dust and soot. Commercial glass cleaners are good but be sure to polish thoroughly so that no film remains.

Some reproductions framed without glass have been given a coating of clear plastic or have been varnished. These can be cleaned with a damp cloth wrung as dry as possible.

If the picture is badly soiled it may be cleaned with a pad of absorbent cotton dipped into a small amount of good quality detergent. Work as quickly as possible, drying the picture with clean cotton as you go along.

Dust all pictures at least once a week with a soft, lintless cloth. Never, never use an oiled dust cloth on a picture.

If the frame is decorated with carving or ornamentation that catches dust, clean with a soft, small paint brush, then polish the frame lightly with a clean cloth.

To repair small cracks in frames, stick shellac, which comes in wood colors as well as gold and silver, can be used.

Heat the shellac and apply like sealing wax.

Lastly, be sure that the backs of the pictures are in good repair and that the paper is not torn.

For small tears, use gummed paper to repair.

New Outfits
Designed for Student Aides

By SUSAN BARDEN

More than 4,000 students from high schools and colleges are acting as Hospitality Aides in 31 snack bars and restaurants operating at the New York World's Fair this summer.

These young men and women are from all over the United States and are ready to give visitors a warm welcome.

The students will greet guests in handsome costumes which have been given them by a program worked out by the fabric manufacturers and the designers.

There is no institutional or uniform look about the clothes so the young people can wear them on a date after work. They are done in a combination of polyester and cotton that's wrinkle-resistant and washable.

Ever add creamstyle cottage cheese to sour cream to use as a dressing for "farmer's chop suey" — lettuce, tomatoes, radishes and scallions all chopped together? Add salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste.

WESTERN COSTUME — This three-piece outfit consists of solid-colored culottes and vest teamed with a red checked shirt. An outfit designed so the young student aids can wear them on a date after work.

California Eyes Lottery

Hampshire Plan Generally Shunned

CHICAGO (AP) — The state lottery, which is producing big response and bigger income for New Hampshire, generally has drawn a legislative ho-hum elsewhere in the nation.

Only California is taking steps to follow New Hampshire's lead.

The first drawing for the 1964 Granite State Sweepstakes in New Hampshire will be next month. Buyers' names will be drawn from a drum containing $1 million worth of tickets. Those drawn will be assigned to the 332 horses nominated for the Sept. 12 sweepstakes race at Rockingham Park race track. Subsequent drawings will be held for each additional $1 million in tickets sold.

Backers say the New Hampshire plan will swell state coffers and mollify taxpayers. "A man would rather lay a bet than pay a tax," the logic goes.

Thus far only Californians have seen the logic. In November, they'll vote on a referendum to establish a state-franchised, privately operated lottery. The initiative would write a 10-year monopoly on the lottery into the state constitution in behalf of American Sweepstakes Corp. The firm would sell $2 tickets, keeping 26 cents and turning in $1.74 to the state for prizes, operating expenses and public school support.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's Democratic administration opposes the measure, as do most church groups and both houses of the legislature. To defeat the scheme, California lawmakers placed their own measure on the ballot. If successful, it would make it illegal to write constitutional amendments naming any firm—profit making or not—to perform a state job.

Named Student Assistant at OSU

Lynn Reichelderfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reichelderfer, 131 E. Union St., has been named a student assistant in one of Ohio State University's residence halls for women for the 1964-65 term.

Student assistants are all upperclass women who live in the residence halls and serve as advisers to the freshmen. Miss Reichelderfer will serve in Bradley Hall on the campus.

Air Guard Intensifies Its Practice

ALPENA, Mich. (AP)—Summer training reached maximum intensity today as Ohio Air National Guard pilots unleashed the destructive power of their jet fighters at four widely separated target bases.

It was the first time since training began last Saturday that all four ranges — two in Michigan and two in Wisconsin — were in use.

Two of the ranges over northern Lake Huron and above Lake Michigan off Milwaukee, are for air-to-air gunnery. The other two, at Camp Grayling, Mich. and in north-central Wisconsin, are for air-to-ground weapon delivery.

About 1,500 Ohio air guardsmen will be training in the two states until July 4.

The 178th Tactical Fighter Group from Springfield, 179th Group from Mansfield, and 121st Tactical Fighter Wing Headquarters from Columbus are at Camp Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base near Alpena in northeastern Michigan.

The 121st Tactical Fighter Group from Columbus is at Jerome Volk Air National Guard Base near Camp Douglas in north-central Wisconsin.

Principal at A-C Accepts New Post

The Amanda Clearcreek Board of Education has accepted the resignation of High School principal John Campbell.

Campbell resigned to take a job as assistant principal in the Louisville, O., school system.

Superintendent William Smith announced that the School Board will announce their decision for Junior and Senior high principals in the near future.

Rights Aides Undeterred

Mississippi Case Brings No Quitters

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Several hundred volunteer civil rights workers training to go to Mississippi this summer still intend to proceed with their plans despite the disappearance of three of their colleagues in that southern state, a spokesman says.

Observers on the campus of the Western College for Women said the second class of volunteers for the Mississippi summer project appeared shaken but undaunted by the news that Andy Goodman, 20, of New York City, a member of the first class and two fellow civil rights workers have disappeared in central Mississippi.

"As far as we know, no one withdrew from the project after hearing the news," said a spokesman for the National Council of Churches, which operates the training courses together with the Council of Federated Organizations.

The spokesmen said a total of 388 persons, including staff members, are taking part in the second phase of the program.

"This tragedy has had no effect at all on the project," the spokesmen said. "The curriculum will continue as planned."

He said the students were told repeatedly to consider whether they still wanted to go through with the project.

An intensive hunt is on in Mississippi for the three volunteer workers. Their burned out car was found by searchers yesterday, but no trace of the trio has been found.

Goodman was one of 175 "graduates" of the first class of the Mississippi Summer Project who went to Philadelphia, Miss., last weekend to take part in the council of churches' Negro voter registration and education projects. The other two missing men, Mickey Schwerner, 24, of New York City and James Cheney, 22, a Meridian, Miss. Negro, are field workers for the Congress of Racial Equality.

The second class' curriculum includes discussion of nonviolent resistance methods and practical advice on setting up community centers and reading courses.

Bayard Rustin, organizer of last summer's march on Washington, was to speak to the volunteers today.

An average of 69,700 public school classrooms have been built every year for the past five, according to the U. S. Office of Education.

Girl's State Officer Named

Carol Balthaser, Route 2, Ashville, has been elected to the office of city council during sessions of Buckeye Girls' State now being held on the campus at Capital University.

Campaign slogans, songs and promotions of all types have been the scene at the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary's 18th annual and largest session of the mythical state.

By practical participation, Miss Balthaser with 1250 other girls are facing the functions and problems as well as rights, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship. Each of the girls holds an office on one of the three government levels actually carrying out her specific duties.

Outdoor Rite Is Urged By Cleric

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—Delegates at the Methodist North-East Ohio Annual Conference have been told there is a need for outdoor worship services in mobile home communities, state parks and resort areas to increase the denomination's membership.

Rev. Howard Mumma, Akron district superintendent, urged these means in his state of the church report at the opening session Tuesday.

"If we can get the people to listen outdoors, then they will eventually come into the church to worship," Three million Ohioans do not belong to a church, he declared, adding that only renewal of the church will save local congregations from becoming self-admiration societies.

"Too long have laymen regarded the church as a nice club for nice people, allowing themselves to be content with nominal Christianity," the Rev. Mr. Mumma said. He said church members are developing "spectatoritis" by trying to buy the services of professionals to

Judge's Decision To Be Appealed

A June 13 decision of Judge William Ammer, sitting by assignment at Hillsboro, is being appealed to the Fourth District Court of Appeals by the Highland County Board of Education.

Judge Ammer, in the case of six Lynchburg - Clay taxpayers against the Highland County School Board, ruled the board abused its discretion in merging Lynchburg - Clay with High Ridge and Brushcreek. The merger took place in March of this year.

The judge granted a permanent injunction in his ruling, stating that the resolution of the board which consolidated the three districts constituted an abuse of discretion on the part of the board and found the resolution illegal, void and of no effect.

The school board filed the appeal in hopes of getting the higher court to reverse Judge Ammer's decision.

do their praying.

Expressing concern for what it called the increasing number of businesses open on Sunday, the report stated, "It is time churchmen throughout made their witness for the preservation of the sabbath by refusing to buy on Sunday."

Ashville News Report

Mrs. Art Deal Jr. — YU 3-6111

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Leatherwood were among 200 guests Saturday at the wedding of Ensign Robert G. Newton of Westerville and Miss Patricia Kiess of Findlay.

Miss Kiess is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kiess of Findlay. Newton is the son of Robert Newton, a former resident of Duvall.

Following the wedding in the Howard Methodist Church, guests were entertained to dinner at the Findlay Country Club.

Roland Featheringham, president of the Community Club, urges all committee chairmen be present for the last meeting before the July Fourth celebration. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Monday in the park shelterhouse. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. George Austin, a former resident of Ashville who now resides in Columbus, is a patient in Grant Hospital. She is in room 928.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Small and daughter of East Tawas, Mich., were guests several days of her mother, Mrs. Alice Purcell.

Mrs. George Bastian, a patient in Riverside Methodist Hospital, was scheduled to undergo surgery today.

Bill Morrison suffered a broken leg in a fall in his home last week.

Question of Values

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The teen-age boy was charged with a felony.

Judge Carl C. Durrance called the mother before him and inquired whether she had gotten her son an attorney. "No," she said.

Assistant Public Defender Robert Rawlins told Judge Durrance the woman had told him she could afford only $25 for an attorney.

"Well, I don't think you can get an attorney for $25," the judge said. He directed the public defender to represent the boy. The boy was returned to jail to await trial.

The mother walked out of the courthouse, climbed into an air conditioned 1964 model car and drove away.

Storm Brings Relief to Ohio

But Tuesday Winds Wreak Damage, Too

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans looked forward to enjoying pleasant relief from the torrid weather of the past few days—thanks to a cold front which brought mixed blessings of a damaging thunderstorm along with cooler temperatures.

Temperatures were forecast to be in the 70s and 80s today, a sharp contrast with the 90s and 95s recorded Thursday, and the humidity was expected to be much lower.

The change in weather was caused by a cold front which came down from the northwest Tuesday afternoon.

But before the front brought the welcome change, it touched off storms which caused property damage from Ashtabula in the far northeastern part of the state down to Xenia in the southwest.

The storms, caused when the cold air met the hot humid currents, showered the state with heavy rain accompanied by high winds and in some places hail.

A funnel cloud just east of Xenia did about $22,000 damage to farm property when it peeled the roof off a house, demolished a barn, several hog pens and a garage and left a path of debris about 400 feet long.

At Columbus, more than an inch of rain fell in 34 minutes and wind gusts reached 40 miles an hour, causing property damage. The heavy rain hit the capital during afternoon rush hour, snarling traffic and drenching people on their way home from work.

At least 30 trees were reported knocked down in a four-block area of Marysville in Union County by high winds and rain. Power lines were broken, leaving many sections of the city, including the sheriff's office, without electricity for a time.

In Morrow County, center of Ohio's oil boom, winds sent trees crashing down on several homes and buckled the walls of an implement company in Edinburg. Four persons were in the building at the time but escaped injury. No damage was reported to the oil rigs, but damage to the homes and implement company were estimated from $50,000 to $75,000.

High winds carried a $6,000 mobile home in the Lancaster area about 30 yards and overturned it in a ditch on U. S. 33. Another mobile home also was damaged.

The Ashtabula Highway Patrol post's radio transmitter was knocked out by a rain and wind storm. The patrol said the trouble apparently was in the antenna tower on Ohio 46 near Interstate 90.

No injuries were reported in any of the storms.

Plunge from Dayton Hotel Believed Suicide

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police say they believe the death of Mrs. Pauline Sanders, killed Tuesday in a fall from a sixth story window in the downtown hotel where she lived, was a suicide. Mrs. Sanders, believed to be in her 40s, was the wife of the new manager of the Boston Store here.

Film Stunter Now Battling Former Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ray (Crash) Corrigan, who endured hundreds of battles in his career as a Western actor, is engaged in the fight of his life. His opponent: his ex-wife.

The prize is the Corriganville movie ranch, 1,611 acres of rock-strewn hills and Western sets 25 miles north of Hollywood. Crash paid $11,000 for it in 1937. A fortnight ago the former Mrs. Corrigan outbid him in court with an offer of $2,506,000 for the property.

Crash has his aces in the hole. If his ex-wife comes up with the purchase price, he'll get half as his share of ownership. His production company holds a 23-year lease on the ranch, so he intends to continue operating it.

This was the latest of a series of court clashes in which the ex-wife, now Mrs. Rita Stiltz, has tried to wrest control of the property from Corrigan. She has plans to turn the ranch into a housing development.

"When I bought this place, it had been used as a dump for 30 years," he recalled. "Nothing but tin cans all over. It took me three years to clean it up and build camera roads so movie companies could work here."

Poorer Nations Show Influence

GENEVA (AP)—The poor nations of Asia, Africa and Latin America have discovered that their sheer weight of numbers can count heavily in the councils of the world.

The discovery had its first big impact at a three-month U.N. trade conference which ended here last week without concrete achievements.

It raises a challenge to the developed countries of the West and could hamper, if not paralyze, the United Nations.

It is a logical consequence of the end of the colonial era, a consequence that was not foreseen when 50 victor nations of World War II signed the United Nations charter in 1945. The membership has more than doubled.

The colonial peoples generally looked to independence as the beginning of prosperity and happiness. But independence has brought only greater poverty to many. Disappointment with the fruits of national liberation often has turned into resentment against the former colonial rulers. And while the poor countries become steadily poorer, the rich countries are becoming richer.

In all Western industrial nations, responsible statesmen agree that this gap cannot be allowed to widen further without breeding revolution, anarchy and war.

The Western nations are pouring money, resources and technical skill into the poor countries but these contend the help is inadequate.

The Soviet Union and its friends are helping, too. Some of the Communist aid is spectacular, such as the Aswan Dam in Egypt. But altogether it amounts to a drop in a bucket compared with the aid given by the West. Soviet influence in most poor countries remains small and is fought by Red China and the West alike.

To their disappointment, the Soviets have found that many Africans and Asians regard them not as special friends or champions of liberation, but as white men.

Throughout Asia and Africa, the Chinese Communists are calling on the nonwhite races to stick together to end the white man's economic domination.

This was one reason, apparently, why the Soviets at the Geneva conference failed to press their usual demand for the admission of Red China.

The conference originally was suggested by the Soviet Union against vigorous Western objections. When it began the Soviets encouraged the formation of a group of 75 underdeveloped nations and promised unconditional support. But in the end, the conference undoubtedly turned into a disillusionment for the Soviet Union.

All Soviet bloc nations—even Cuba—were refused admission to the underdeveloped group which, on occasions, took a decidedly anti-Communist line.

The emergence of the group itself as a cohesive, basically anti-Western political force nevertheless was the most significant development of the conference. Burma, Indonesia, Ghana, Guinea and Chile were its most outspoken leaders.

Western officials fear they will seek to use their newly found power from now on to steamroller their views — with Soviet support — through the United Nations and other international bodies.

Negro GIs Get Better Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's civil rights chief today reported some "spectacular changes" in treatment of Negro servicemen in areas around military bases.

Alfred B. Fitt, deputy assistant secretary of defense for civil rights, indicated he expects the new civil rights bill to help in scoring further gains against racial discrimination affecting servicemen.

"Our people probably use more public accommodations than any other segment of the population," Fitt said in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press.

He referred here to a section of the new bill providing remedies for persons barred on racial or religious grounds from such public accommodations as hotels and motels, restaurants, or places of entertainment.

The Pentagon's year-old drive to eradicate discrimination against servicemen has relied largely upon persuasion, with base commanders generally dealing with local officials on a case-by-case basis.

"There's been very gratifying progress," Fitt said, "but a good deal remains to be done."

He stressed that in using the word spectacular to describe some gains so far, he meant instances where rigid patterns of segregation had been broken even to a limited extent for servicemen.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's tough talk about stiff-arming the Communists in Viet Nam and his appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor as ambassador there is doubly useful to him.

But what the rest of the country doesn't know—and perhaps the Johnson administration cannot tell, either—is what the United States is heading into in Southeast Asia.

If this country gets directly into the fighting there—with a presidential campaign coming up—there's no way to predict what this will mean to Johnson's chances for re-election.

But the tough talk and the Taylor appointment will keep the Communists guessing, if it doesn't discourage them, and both will be talking points for Johnson if the Republicans complain he isn't showing enough muscle.

Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and this country's top-ranking military officer, is credited with being a tough and brilliant officer.

He succeeds Henry Cabot Lodge, who resigned to come home and help Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton try to win the Republican presidential nomination against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Goldwater has been acutely critical of the way the administrations of both President John F. Kennedy and Johnson have handled Viet Nam. He has suggested pretty drastic action, more than Kennedy or Johnson were willing to take yet.

If Goldwater wins the nomination over the efforts of Lodge and Scranton, he won't have to soft-pedal his criticism.

But if Scranton gets the nomination, the Republican party in general will be in poor position to make Viet Nam an issue, and for this reason: Lodge in his letter of resignation to Johnson

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

The cold front that was responsible for triggering scattered thunderstorms across Ohio Tuesday afternoon and evening, along with some hail and locally strong winds, moved into extreme eastern Ohio by dawn today.

Dry weather had returned to the state Tuesday night except for a few scattered showers in the area from about Bellaire to Chesapeake. However, these showers were predicted to end early this morning.

Today, west to northwest winds were to push dry and much cooler air into the state. And considerable sunshine was in store for today and again Thursday.

Tonight was to be fair and much cooler. The temperature range for this afternoon was expected to be from the 70s north to the low 80s south. Tonight, 50s and 60s were in order. Temperatures around the state early this morning included Columbus 68, Cleveland 66, Cincinnati 67 and Marietta 70.

highly praised his Vietnamese policy.

In that letter Lodge said among other things:

"My thanks to you for your unfailing devotion to problems connected with American policy in Viet Nam, for your guidance, courtesy . . . although in a dangerous position, the republic of Viet Nam is on the right track . . .

"Persistent and patient execution of existing civil and military plans will bring victory."

American talk about stopping the Reds from taking over Southeast Asia has become increasingly tough although how far the administration is actually willing to go has never been clear.

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday: "The United States intends no rashness and seeks no wider war. But the United States is determined to use its strength to help those who are defending themselves against terror and aggression."

The Reds could read what they wanted to in that statement but Johnson seemed to assume they understood he meant business for he told newsmen: "I think they are aware of our attitude and that they have no doubt about our policy or our position."

Mississippi Softens Civil Rights Curbs

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—While white citizens wait nervously for an increase in civil rights activity this summer, Mississippi officials have armed themselves with new laws and techniques aimed at averting violence.

Up until a few months ago, demonstrators usually were arrested the minute they appeared on the streets. In Jackson alone last summer more than 1,000 arrests were made.

But a new approach appeared this winter, inaugurated in Hattiesburg — let the demonstrators have policed freedom of movement.

The lack of attention, police theorized, would wear thin the ranks of the participants.

In Hattiesburg, Canton, Greenwood and Clarksdale this plan was followed. Now only a few persons are still demonstrating in any form.

The state legislature, however, has added new laws, for use if needed.

And since it was called back into special session June 23 to deal with state-aided private schools, more laws could be added if trouble appears likely.

The biggest legal change, sought by Gov. Paul Johnson, added 200 men to the Mississippi Highway Patrol and gave the former traffic control agency police powers to be used only by proclamation in the event of racial disorders.

Another new statute, now facing a court test, prohibits picketing near entrances to government buildings. Several demonstrators were arrested under this law in Hattiesburg during a recent "Freedom Day" mass voter registration drive.

Johnson signed a law permitting cities to enter into mutual assistance pacts in times of racial duress in order for law enforcement agencies to marshal forces.

Some cities have entered into such pacts with Jackson because of its big police force and riot control techniques and equipment.

Other new laws permit cities to restrain movements of groups, set up curfews, ban the circulation of boycott literature and increase penalties for violating city ordinances to a maximum of 90 days in jail and $300 fines.

The state penitentiary can now be used by cities and counties when local jails prove inadequate for large numbers.

Another side of the resistance coin is the secretive Ku Klux Klan.

Weekend cross burnings have dotted the state in the past few weeks apparently showing a highly organized segregationist group. Thus far, however, there have been no incidents or violence involving the Klan and Negroes, or civil rights workers.

Mississippi officials have been asking militant white groups to let authorities handle race relation problems, an appeal which has drawn newspaper editorial support.

Racial Tags on Military Forms Deleted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has ordered racial designations removed from most personnel forms listing them, it was learned Tuesday.

The action was taken quietly in April by Alfred B. Fitt, deputy assistant secretary of defense for civil rights.

Since then, the individual armed services have moved to put the order into effect.

Fitt told The Associated Press it was found there were 24 or 25 forms that still carried racial listings. "In most cases, they shouldn't have," Fitt said.

The Pentagon's civil rights chief has been carrying on a campaign for nearly a year to eradicate all traces of racial discrimination within the military establishment, and to ease discrimination against Negro servicemen in areas surrounding military bases.

Affected forms included personnel security questionnaires, reports of transfer or discharge, statements of personal history, evaluations of WAC or WAF applicants, Navy applications for enlistment, certain medical records and others.

Lady Senator Hits Health Chief's Cigarette Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surgeon General Luther L. Terry told Congress Tuesday more legislation is needed before the federal government can regulate the advertising and labeling of cigarettes.

He testified also that any such authority should be given to the Food and Drug Administration rather than to the Federal Trade Commission. The FDA, like the Public Health Service which Terry heads, is under the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Terry's testimony before the House Commerce Committee drew sharp opposition from another witness, Sen. Maurice B. Neuberger, D-Ore.

"One wonders," she said, "just how serious the department's urge to regulate really is."

The Federal Trade Commission recently completed hearings on its proposals to require that cigarette packages carry a warning that smoking may be injurious to health, and otherwise to regulate advertising claims.

Mrs. Neuberger urged Congress to "do nothing which would obstruct or impede the implementation" of either the FTC program or a Public Health Service plan for mass research and education on smoking.

But Terry testified that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare believes that more legislation is needed to give the FTC authority to regulate cigarette advertising.

And he added that the regulation of cigarette labeling should not be in FTC hands, at all, but rather under the FDA.

Mrs. Neuberger expressed fears that the decision of the welfare department to seek new legislation might result in no regulation of cigarettes at all.

"It would be tragic," Mrs. Neuberger said, "if regulations so significant to the health of Americans should fall victim to a petty jurisdictional dispute."

Another witness, Rep. Horace R. Kornegay, a Democratic member of the committee, who comes from tobacco-growing North Carolina, said the tobacco industry had been convicted by the Public Health Service on "insufficient evidence" in its report on smoking and health last January.

Kornegay asked the committee not to "condemn thousands of our people to squalor" by destroying the tobacco industry.

Mrs. Neuberger, however, told the committee, "We have to weigh human life and its economic value against the value of a single industry."

Forgetful Day
LEOTI, Kan. (AP) — Murle M. Hayden used a pair of pliers and a piece of wire to fish the ignition keys out of his closed and locked car.

In the process the pliers and wire were put on a car fender and forgotten.

Hayden stopped for gasoline 160 miles away and a service station attendant pointed out that the pliers and wire were riding undisturbed where Hayden had left them — on the fender.

Bowling Unit Accused in Trust Case

NEW YORK (AP)—The anti-trust division of the Department of Justice has filed a civil anti-trust suit in U.S. District Court against the Bowling Proprietors Association of America, Inc.

The association, which has a membership of 6,150 commercial bowling establishments throughout the country, was accused of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The complaint stated that the association had conspired from 1951 with various associations, individuals, firms and corporations not named defendants, to restrain and monopolize interstate trade and commerce in the operation of commercial bowling establishments.

The government charged that the conspiracy "has consisted of a continuing agreement, understanding and concert of action among the defendant and co-conspirators to induce, persuade and coerce bowlers to eliminate or substantially restrict their league bowling in non-BPAA commercial bowling establishments."

Cuban Exiles Say Movie Effort Fatal

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A desire to make movies on an anti-Castro bombing mission last week may have spelled doom for the raiders, Cuban exiles said Tuesday.

"The pilot, Luis Diaz, asked that he be permitted to make the raid in daylight rather than during protective darkness," said spokesmen for the sponsoring organizations, Revolutionary Recovery Insurrectional Movement and Commandos L.

"He wanted to make pictures and show them later to spur collection of funds to buy planes for bigger raids on Cuba."

Diaz, 23, was killed after he and two companions dropped three homemade bombs on a central Cuba sugar mill. Havana radio said the other two were injured when the plane was shot down. Both were captured.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and son, Harold, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs.

Gemini Space Flight Due about Christmas

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The first manned Gemini space flight is now scheduled for about Christmastime this year.

Manned Spacecraft Center officials have been saying the two-man flight would be made "late this year" or "in the last quarter of the year."

At a news conference, a center spokesman pinned it down to "late December."

Nicklaus Gets Feel of Course

Ohioan Practices For Cleveland Test

CLEVELAND (AP)—The big money golf tourists are beginning to bunch up, but youthful Jack Nicklaus is taking steps to stay on top.

The 24-year-old Columbus star, who paces the pack with $51,426 despite picking up only $400 in last week's National Open, has an eye on the $20,000 top prize in the $110,000 Cleveland Open, which starts its four-day, 72-hole medal-play grind Thursday.

While runnerup Arnold Palmer ($49,651) and fourth-place Tony Lema ($40,561) passed up practice rounds Tuesday over the 6,821-yard, par-71 Highland Park course—the last free round ride around the rugged municipal layout—Nicklaus measured every inch of it.

Instead of cooking up a "skin game" with some of the other competitors, Nicklaus went out alone with only his caddy tagging along. He kept no score, but he had a score card full of notes when he came in.

Also missing the practice jaunt were Ken Venturi, last week's surprise winner of the National Open, and classy Dow Finsterwald. The temperature was in the 90s, and tornado warnings were flying to discourage much of the talented field of 149 professionals and 10 amateurs.

Fifty of the pros had a picnic today as each teamed with three amateurs in a best-ball handicap round with $10,000 going to the play-for-pay group. The professionals paid no entry fee, but each of the 150 amateurs tossed $200 into the pot.

The $200 gave each amateur, in addition to the 18-hole jaunt with a top-ranked pro, six tickets and a parking sticker for the remainder of the tournament.

The professional shooting today's best round was due for a $1,000 prize and the pro in the leading foursome had an $800 payoff on tap. So one of them could possibly pick up $1,800.

L. M. Butch Edged by GE

General Electric edged past L. M. Butch yesterday, 5-4, in the lone game played in the majors division of the Babe Ruth League.

Lynn Heath made his first mound appearance of the year for GE. He walked six and fanned one.

In the fifth Heath experienced control trouble and was relieved by Rick Congrove. Congrove was credited with one walk and five strikeouts.

Dale Byrd was the losing pitcher. He gave up nine hits, walked eight and whiffed five.

WITH the score knotted at 4-4 in the top of the sixth, Darryl Bass cracked a single that scored James Hill with the winning run.

Bill Hill hit a triple for the winners while Chuck Zimmerman collected a double.

GE has a 1-1 record in the second round and a 4-3 overall slate. Butch is 0-2 in the second round and has won two and lost five for the season.

Redlegs Take 11 Innings To Top Giants

CINCINNATI (AP)—It took 11 innings and Marty Keough's home run Tuesday night for the Cincinnati Reds to beat the San Francisco Giants for the first time in this series.

The score was 5-4, and victory came after the second-place Giants had polished off the Reds in the first game of the twinghter, 4-0.

Juan Marichal (9-3) pitched the first game shutout and won his first game since May 31.

San Francisco scored all of its runs in the third inning of the first game and after that did not get another hit. In these three innings, the Giants got eight hits off Jim Maloney.

Had it not been for rookie Jim Hart, Cincinnati would not have had to go to the 11th inning to win the second game. Hart got a double and two homers, tying the score with his second home run in the eighth inning.

Joe Nuxhall went 10 innings for Cincinnati and Sammy Ellis finished to become the winning pitcher. Billy O'Dell started for the Giants, but lasted only 2 1-3 innings.

The two clubs meet again tonight and the Reds have a chance to even the series behind the pitching of Jim O'Toole (6-3). Ron Herbel (4-3) is expected to start for San Francisco.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

TV TRACK STAR — Mike Seymour, leading scorer on the Teays Valley High School track team, was presented the Viking award for excellence in track. He scored 169 points in 14 meets and competed in the state Class AA high school meet in Columbus. An outstanding broad jumper, he placed second in the central district meet and set a new school record with a 21-foot 8 1/4-inch effort. His coach is Marion Waits.

OSU Freshman Leads Tourney

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Volker Krajewski, an Ohio State University freshman from Dayton, carried a one-stroke lead into today's final round of the Ohio Junior Golf Tournament at Brookside Country Club.

Krajewski, a blond 19-year-old who came to this country from Germany in 1955, fired a par 35-37—72 Tuesday. Tied in the runnerup spot, one stroke back were John Cowan of Urbana, who won the junior title last year, and Artie Ware, Miami University freshman from Lebanon.

Fullback Bill Huber of Penn State will be switched to a guard position next fall.

Tribe Drops Below .500 In Standings

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Kaat, who has a way of beating the Cleveland Indians, did it again Tuesday night and dropped the Tribe's average below the .500 mark for the first time since the first day of the season.

The 6-2 drubbing at the hands of the Minnesota Twins was the Indians' fourth straight loss and their 11th in 15 games.

Kaat beat the Indians four times without a loss last year. Last night he had a shutout going into the ninth inning. Then, with one out, he walked Leon Wagner, and John Romano hit a double.

Max Alvis struck out, but Bob Chance was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Larry Brown's single scored two runs, but Kaat struck out Woodie Held to end the threat. The only other hits off Kaat were singles by Romano, Alvis and Dick Howser.

The victory was the seventh against three defeats for Kaat, a southpaw. The Indians face two more lefthanders tonight, when the Twins send Jim Roland (2-5) and former Indian Dick Stigman (3-6) against the Tribe in a two-night doubleheader.

Pitching for the Indians will be Dick Donovan (2-4) and Rookie southpaw Sam McDowell (3-0). McDowell lasted only 1 2-3 innings against the Twins Monday night in the game that was washed out in the tenth after the Indians bounced back to tie the score 8-8.

Lane Howell, who finished his first season with the New York football Giants as a regular offensive tackle, was the team's No. 15 draft choice for the 1963 season.

Savings Bank Maintains Perfect Slate

Undeclared Savings Bank continued its winning ways last night in the little league minors, by downing winless Ward's Market, 24-6. The Jaycee-Third National Bank game was rained out.

Dick Hodge was the Savings Bank hurler. He fanned nine and allowed five hits.

Pacing the Bankers' hitting attack, which scored at least two runs in each frame, was Van Griffey, who powered a home-run and two singles. Hodge cracked a double and four singles and Jerry Easter plastered a triple and a single.

Steve Davis started for the Ward nine. He fanned two batters before being replaced by Wayne Reed who struck out three.

***
STEVE MUMAW and Mark Kneese cracked triples for the losers.

The Savings Bank is 5-0 and leading the red division of the Little League minors. Ward's Market stands at 0-5.

The Jaycee - Third Bank tilt, was to be played at the fairgrounds, but high winds and rain halted play.

Better Health Through Knowledge

PHENYLKETONURIA

Q. Will you please discuss the cause and treatment of phenylketonuria?

A. Phenylketonuria is an inborn error in the utilization of phenylalanine, a body protein. The most important effect of the disorder is mental retardation. Early treatment of children with phenylketonuria helps ward off the mental effects. A milk preparation complete in all constituents other than phenylalanine is fed as early as possible. Low protein fruits, vegetables, grains and beverages are also provided, allowing for good growth and near normal intelligence. The diet is followed until the child finishes kindergarten or enters regular school.

CATCH-UP GROWTH AFTER ILLNESS

Q. Our 10-year-old has just recovered from a serious year-long illness. He is definitely stunted in growth. Is there any chance of his "making up for lost time"?

A. Yes. Studies show that children whose growth has been retarded by illness tend to grow at a greater than normal rate after the disorder is corrected. Rapid growth often continues until the child "catches up" and regains his previous normal growth rate.

International Loop Flag Race Is Close

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
One just needs a quick look at the International League standings to see that any one of five teams could win the pennant and no one would be surprised.

League - leading Jacksonville maintained a slim 1-game lead Tuesday night by splitting a doubleheader with Syracuse, losing the first game 3-2 and winning the second 8-1.

In the only other game Rochester beat Atlanta 4-3 in a contest called at the end of 6 1/2 innings because of rain. Columbus and Buffalo and Richmond and Toronto were rained out.

Even though idle, Toronto moved into second place. Rochester, Syracuse and Buffalo, who fill out the top five in that order, are each just 2 1/2 games behind the pace-setting Suns.

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - There'll

be a hot time in the whole country as the three major television networks buckle down to the business of covering politics

during the next five months.

All three have come to regard a presidential election year as a time to flex the muscles of their news departments, plunging into furious competition to get on camera first with a news item and in nailing big-wigs for interviews.

It is a time, too, when television experiments with some of the wondrous new electronic developments. This year's little marvel is expected to be a lightweight television camera which,

free of the usual tie to an electrical outlet, can go anywhere

a cameraman can walk - perhaps even into a smoke-filled room, hitherto out of sight and sound.

Each network is sending huge staffs and tons of equipment to the Republican convention in July and to the Democratic convention in August. Each plans to devote many hours of prime evening time to special programs, documentaries, analyses, explanations and interviews. There will even be politically orientated programs for children and for women.

A delicate job, the broadcast-er's special headache, will be keeping a careful balance in time and television exposure

among the candidates, between the major parties.

Under the Federal Communications Act, the networks, which are exceedingly careful about what is said on the air, are prohibited from censoring the statements of any candidate. Networks or stations may, however, refuse to permit non-candidates from making statements

they believe to be libelous or defamatory.

During the campaign months,

the networks will be carrying many campaign commercials.

During the late summer and fall, many entertainment programs will be clipped short to make room for them—a situation which may not make viewers, already inundated with commercials, particularly happy.

Politics and political programs, will make things for program arrangers more difficult in September, when the new show season begins.

Anyway, from now until

November, it will be a busy time for the network news

staffs.

Breaks-'n'-Aches Eddie Set for Thornton Bout

SEATTLE (AP) - Eddie Cotton said today he isn't crossing his fingers. He might break one.

Freshly turned 38 and looking much too healthy for his own good, Eddie Cotton is winding up training this week at his home base for a July 3 bout in New York with Wayne Thornton.

The winner expects to earn a crack at Willie Pastrano's light-heavyweight title in September - and that's the break Eddie has been hoping for.

If the Cottons keep a family album it's probably full of X-ray pictures. Lanky Ed has been knocked out only once in a ring career dating back to 1947, but he's been on the medical shelf so often the doctors think his name is Eddie Fracture.

The tally—not counting mere sprains—is four broken hands, two to a side; one fractured pelvis; one bout with pneumonia which he won by a narrow decision.

Cotton started getting the breaks literally when he cracked his left mitt on the jaw of Dave Whitlock in California in 1956. He signed up the same year to box Archie Moore but broke the same hand again in training.

The jinx abandoned Ed for six years while he interspersed fist-cuffs with his job as a toolmaker at the Boeing airplane plant here. A day or two before he was to fly to Peru and box Mauro Mina in January 1962, a 75-pound chunk of aluminum popped out of a shaping press and tagged Eddie in passing.

It broke his pelvis, sprained his right hand badly and left him in the hospital on fight night. The bout was put off to October and Cotton lost a split decision to Mina but got a re-match for January of unlucky 1963.

He lost again while breaking his right hand on the Mina tophography. In May he tested the hand on Henry Peterson and won by a knockout, but he broke it again in June in the process of defeating Chick Calderwood at Glasgow, Scotland. By October he was back in the ring, whipping Hank.

Since then Cotton has broken nothing except the heart of his manager, George Chermers. This he accomplished by catching pneumonia on the eve of a televised fight at Chicago in March. The Thornton scrap will be his first since recovery.

Culp Nearly Duplicates Bunning Feat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ray Culp has pitched his way back into the Philadelphia Phillies' starting rotation. All it took was a near replica of teammate Jim Bunning's perfect game.

A first-inning base on balls and Len Gabrielson's sixth-inning single came between Culp and perfection, attained two days earlier by Bunning, as the 22-year-old right-hander blanked Chicago 9-0 in the second game of a doubleheader Tuesday night.

No other Cub reached base against Culp, whose early season troubles cost him a front-line job on Gene Mauch's leading pitching staff. Mauch, thoroughly impressed after Culp's effort, announced that the National League-leading Phils will go with five starters henceforth.

"With Bunning, (Dennis) Bennett, (Art) Mahaffey and (Chris) Short working so well," the manager said, "we just haven't been able to give Ray enough work. The doubleheaders enabled us to use him more. Now he's pitching like he did last year."

Culp, a $100,000 bonus baby five years ago, won 14 games in 1963, his rookie season, and led Philadelphia pitchers with 176 strikeouts. He reported with a sore arm this spring, dropped five of six decisions and found himself in the bullpen.

But three victories—including the one-hitter—and two complete games in his last three appearances have vaulted the young Texan back into the Phils' pennant plan.

The second-game victory gave the Phils a split of the tw-nighter. Chicago took the opener 2-0 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

Second-place San Francisco divided with Cincinnati, winning 4-0 before bowing 5-4 in 11 innings. Pittsburgh defeated New York 5-1; Milwaukee beat Los Angeles 5-2 and St. Louis nipped Houston 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore edged New York 9-8; Chicago blanked Boston 2-0; Los Angeles downed Washington by the same score; Minnesota beat Cleveland 6-2 and Kansas City split with Detroit, winning the opener 2-1 and losing the nightcap 9-3.

Greg Hoskins Hurls One-Hit Shutout Against Hill Nine

The Knights of Columbus and Lewis Cook picked up wins in the Mosquito League yesterday, with K of C downing Hill Implement, 17-0, and the Insurance men topping Pickaway Dairy, 8-5.

It was the fourth win for the Knights in five starts this season. Lewis Cook and Hill Implement are 1-3, sporting 2-3 record. 1. Dairymen have a 1-4 slate.

Cook Insurance too, 3-1 lead in the first inning of the game with the dairymen and never trailed, although the losers scored four of their five runs in the final three innings.

James Brown and Kirk Brown

shared mound duties for the winners. James started, walking four and fanning eight in four innings. He gave up all four

Pickaway Dairy hits and two runs.

...

KIRK came on in the fifth, walking two and whiffing six.

Graig Lund hurled all five innings for the losers. He walked six, whiffed six and was touched for nine hits.

Keith Davis belted a homerun

for the winners while James

Brown and Gary Morgan tagged doubles. Robin Ott belted a double for the losers.

Greg Hoskins hurled the Knights of Columbus to the shutout victory over the implement-men.

He went six innings, walking eight, fanning 12 and allowing only one hit - a single by

Paul Kneis in the top of the sixth inning.

Hoskins aided his own cause

with a second inning homerun with two men on base, accounting for three of the four runs tallied in that frame.

In the nine-run fourth, Allen

Hawks tagged a triple with two men aboard. Brian Barthelmas smacked three singles in five turns as the winners needed

only seven hits to score their 17

runs.

Lodge's Return May Give GOP Wider Choice

Envoy Denies He Has Political Aspirations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge's return from South Viet Nam might offer Republicans a choice of candidates to oppose Sen. Barry Goldwater for the GOP presidential nomination.

Lodge announced in Saigon Tuesday he was quitting his ambassadorial post and coming home because he felt it was his "duty to do everything that I can to help Gov. Scranton to win for president."

Later, he said "there are no hidden meanings" in his decision to return to the United States and he is "not a candidate at all." He added, "I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself. I cannot be drafted."

Lodge's decision to jump into presidential politics was widely heralded by the backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton as a major development in his efforts to win delegates away from Goldwater.

Scranton said he was delighted by Lodge's decision to return and added, "This is another big boost for this rapidly expanding campaign." He said he hoped to have Lodge "go around and tell the people why they should be for me."

Supporters of Goldwater, who has more than enough publicity committed convention votes to win the nomination if his delegates stand pat, generally discounted Lodge's move.

Goldwater, in a statement issued Tuesday, avoided any reference to Lodge's declaration that he would campaign for Scranton.

Instead, the Arizonan said, "Ambassador Lodge is to be congratulated for bearing up this long under such adverse conditions. The Johnson-McNamara program of indecision and vacillation has made it impossible for him to carry out his ambassadorial functions properly and undoubtedly motivated his resignation." Lodge gave no hint of such a factor in his letter of resignation.

While nobody questioned the sincerity of Lodge's commitment to back Scranton, some party strategists noted there were elements present that could lead to unpredictable developments.

This would be true particularly, they said, if there was a resurgence of Lodge's popularity in the national polls. These listed him as top choice of the rank and file for the nomination before he ran second to New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the May 15 Oregon primary. Some polls still give Lodge high ratings.

Scranton, whose name was on the Oregon ballot, got only 2 per cent of the vote. His meager total there and his low rating in the national polls were viewed by his friends as the natural result of his position then that he was not a candidate and that he would only accept a nomination tendered him as the result of a genuine draft he did not think would come about.

Subsequently Scranton announced he was an active candidate against Goldwater and most of Lodge's backers said they would support the Pennsylvania governor.

One of Scranton's principal problems in his belated scramble for the nomination has been that many Republicans just do not know much about him and haven't learned where he stands on the issues.

As the 1960 GOP vice-presidential nominee, Lodge has general recognition among the party organization workers whose voices will be heard in delegation caucuses and whose votes will be recorded in the convention balloting.

Whether a significant number of them might decide that Lodge rather than Scranton, was the nominee they wanted remains a question to be answered at the convention.

Lausche Demands New Look at Space Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D - Ohio, charging that the $5.246 billion space authorization bill "went through the Senate like lightning," was among several senators who demanded Tuesday that the measure be reconsidered.

Yielding to the demands, the Senate agreed to reconsider its approval of the measure. Among other things the bill authorized $770,000 for the Lewis Research Center at Cleveland and Sandusky, Ohio.

Taylor Poised For Assignment In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, who has never known defeat, flies to war-torn South Viet Nam soon to take over as U.S. ambassador. He is expected to provide a single tight and unified command over U.S. civilian and military efforts.

The soldier-diplomat was named to the Saigon post Tuesday by President Johnson after the resignation of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Taylor plans to leave for his new post in 10 days or two weeks. Johnson's selection of Taylor for the hot spot assignment won strong approval on Capitol Hill.

Democrats and Republicans joined in predicting overwhelming Senate confirmation. In South Viet Nam, Taylor will have under him two old friends in key spots—Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland as U.S. military commander and veteran diplomat U. Alexis Johnson as his political deputy.

Westmoreland, one of the most promising of the Army's younger generals, has been considered a "Taylor man" for about a decade. Westmoreland served on Taylor's staff when the new ambassador was the Army's chief in the mid-1950s.

Johnson, deputy undersecretary of state for political affairs, has been close to Taylor for about 30 years. He said in an interview, "We have no magic answers but we are determined to do our best."

Stepping in behind Taylor as the new chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be another Taylor "disciple," Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who now is Army chief of staff.

Although congressional reaction to Taylor's appointment was mostly enthusiastic Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., called Johnson's decision to nominate a military man "a calamitous mistake." Morse served notice he will fight Taylor's confirmation in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and on the Senate floor.

Most other members of the committee, including Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., voiced warm praise of the selection.

Some committee members interpreted the appointment as another sign that military operations in South Viet Nam will be intensified at the risk of war with Red China in an effort to prevent a Communist takeover in Southeast Asia.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana called Taylor a "great statesman-soldier" who is fully aware "of the situation as it exists in Viet Nam. Gen. Taylor is the best possible man to serve at this most difficult time in this most critical area."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, also predicted confirmation, calling Taylor an able military man. He said Taylor's appointment, along with that of Johnson, offered "the combined strength of a consolidated approach."

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said the choice of Taylor for the Saigon post "means action—this means war."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said the President had assembled "the best team we could possibly place in Viet Nam."

ROTARY PREXY — Ned W. Harden will be installed as new president of the Circleville Rotary Club when the organization meets 11:45 a. m. Thursday at the St. Philip's Church Parish House. Dr. Robert G. Smith is the retiring president. W. H. Driggs, governor of Rotary's District No. 669, will be present for the installation ceremony.

No Issue Seen In Viet Nam

Lodge Says Crisis Actually Bipartisan

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge said today he doesn't see how the war in Viet Nam can be an issue in the U.S. presidential campaign—"It involves the Eisenhower administration and the Kennedy and Johnson administrations, and the Truman administration."

"In history when you've had a disaster," Lodge told newsmen, "then that becomes a political issue, even if the politicians do not do anything about it. But of course there's no outlook of that kind for the time."

Lodge announced his resignation as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam Tuesday and said he was returning to the United States to help Gov. William W. Scranton's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

The front-runner for the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, said in Washington that "the Johnson - McNamara program of indecision and vacillation has made it impossible for (Lodge) to carry out his ambassadorial functions properly and undoubtedly motivated his resignation."

But Lodge said he had been on excellent terms with President Johnson's administration. In an earlier statement Tuesday night, he said: "Viet Nam is on the right track and, with persistence, its freedom and independence will surely be achieved."

Lodge, Republican vice-presidential candidate four years ago said he is returning only to help Scranton, governor of Pennsylvania, and is "not a candidate at all."

"I am not going back at all in order to connive at anything for myself," he said. "I cannot be drafted and there are no hidden meanings."

The ambassador plans to leave Saigon Sunday, a year and a day after he was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy.

18 Finish Course on Water Safety

A course in life saving and water safety has been completed by 18 young people at the Circleville Swimming Pool.

The course was taught by Mike Alkire, water safety instructor. He was assisted by Cathy Griner.

Participating in the training were Sally Smith, Elizabeth Moon, Vicki Clifton, Connie Lindsey, Donna Meyers, Jill Robertson, Terry Lewis, Nikki Rush, John Young, Debbie Shea, Terry Ferrell, Larry Baird, Mike Merriman, Mike Guthrie, Mary Belle Kreisel and Lin Cook.

Serving as water safety aides are: Elizabeth Moon, Vicki Clifton, Diana Foster, Connie Lindsey, Jill Robertson, Sally Smith, Debbie Shea, Terry Ferrell, Scott Lindsey, Mike Merriman, John Young and Larry Baird.

THE LIFE saving course consists of 24 hours of training in basic principals of safety in and near water and included practice in methods of rescue and resuscitation. The group visited the Don Collins pond for a demonstration in canoeing safety.

Water safety aides received 12 hours additional training in teaching procedures in preparation for giving assistance in the Red Cross summer swimming program, which got underway at the Circleville pool Monday. The program is directed by Jack Strapp, assisted by the trained volunteer personnel.

The objective of the local Red Cross Chapter in sponsoring this program is the promotion of safety in, on and around water.

REACH—DON'T RUN

Put a phone where you are

Why boil over every time the phone rings? A phone just a reach away from where you work lets you take—or make—calls without stirring from the kitchen. And our SPACE-MAKER® phone in a choice of colors fits almost anywhere you want it. Call our Business Office for details.
